

Sponsorship Opportunities for the 2022 Research Pharmacy Summit

The Research Pharmacy Summit, hosted by the McCreadie Group, is the only conference designed specifically for investigational pharmacy practitioners. This year's virtual conference will span two days: Thursday, September 29 – Friday, September 30. Approximately 200 pharmacists and staff are expected to attend from both major and smaller research institutions across the nation.

Being a sponsor at the 2022 Research Pharmacy Summit will allow you to showcase your organization as a thought leader in the pharmacy industry, while keeping your company top-of-mind with branding opportunities and social media attention. Best of all, there will be plenty of opportunities to network with research pharmacy practitioners, potentially generating high-quality leads.
